History of Hinsdale

LAND GRANTS AND SETTLEMENTS

Hinsdale, in the southwestern corner of New Hampshire, is bounded on the north by Chesterfield, on the east by Winchester, on the south by Massachusetts, on the west by the Connecticut river which separates it from Vernon and Brattleboro, Vermont.

Very early in its history, this region and that of Vernon, were known as Squakheag, from a large and powerful tribe of Indians who occupied the bluff now known as Cooper's Point. The name Squakheag—meaning spearing-place, or a place for spearing salmon—was applied by them to the waters at Cooper's Point and at the mouth of the Ashuelot. On the plains and bluffs at this place they built their principal villages and fortified the bluff, to which place they resorted when pressed or threatened by enemies. On account of the location, it proved an excellent watch-out for enemies both up and down the river.

In 1687, Nawallet, a chief of the Squakheags, granted to the proprietors of the town of Northfield, Mass., a tract of land including the territory within the limits of Hinsdale. For a long time it remained a part of Northfield, Mass., and was then known as Fort Dummer from the Fort which guarded it on the north. Hence titles to the land in this territory were received from Nawallet and the proprietors of Northfield.

The town of Northfield granted the meadow-lands to twelve persons; among them were Cornelius Merry, Daniel Shattuck, Peter Evans, and Robert Cooper, who afterwards built houses on their lands. The other eight are not known to have become settlers. The first organization of the town was that of these proprietors in 1736. Daniel Shattuck is supposed to have built the first house in town in 1737—a log house, by a brook on the farm purchased by the Connecticut River Power Co. from Dickanson Sons of Ashuelot. Another log house stood on the opposite bank of the brook and the two connected by a plank palisade and surrounded by pickets were known as Fort Shattuck. Robert Cooper built a log house just south of Merry's Meadow and, in 1741, John Evans built near the cemetery south of W. N. Pike's farm.

Fort Hinsdale was built in 1742 and was located just back of the present home of L. F. Liscom. Across the river, then a part of this town, lived Orlando Bridgman, Josiah Sartwell, Joseph Stebbins, and Benoni Wright.

All the horrors of Indian warfare were realized by these settlers, many being killed at various times. At North Hinsdale on the road to Brattleboro, is a monument erected to the memory of Thomas Taylor. In 1748 in passing from Northfield to Fort Dummer, he was surprised by a large band of French and Indians. After a desperate conflict, he was captured and taken to Canada but later returned. As a reward for his bravery, he was presented with 50 pounds by the general court of Massachusetts.

In 1746 three men were killed, two wounded and two were taken prisoners, near Bridgeman's Fort. Daniel How, one of the captives, killed one of the Indians in the struggle. Several persons were killed and taken prisoners, and Fort Bridgeman destroyed in 1747. June 16, 1748, Nathan French, Joseph Richardson, and John Frost were killed, and several others captured while crossing from fort Hinsdale to fort Dummer. In 1755 two persons were killed and Jonathan Colby captured while working in the woods. In July of the same year Caleb How, Hilkiah Grout, and Benjamin Gaffield were ambushed and killed, while returning from labor.

Mount Wantastiquet was much frequented by the Indians and one particular spot was used as a watchout for from there they could easily look down upon Fort Dummer, ascertain what its occupants were doing and find an opportune time for assault.

In 1745, all except Colonel Hinsdale had been driven from their homes, but in 1750, they returned and soon more were added to their number.

Northfield claimed all the land north to Fort Dummer but in 1741 a line was run between New Hampshire and Massachusetts. Northfield allowed the grants made to settlers north of this line as valid.

Col. Ebenezer Hinsdale was perhaps the most prominent and highly esteemed citizen of these early times. His mother was in the fort at Deerfield when it was surprised by Indians in February, 1704. After a massacre of citizens the one hundred and fifty who remained escaped to Canada; among them was Mrs. Mary Hinsdale, the mother of Col. Hinsdale. He was born after her return from Canada. Though educated at Har-yard and ordained as a minister in Boston, he never settled in the ministry. In 1742, he located here where he owned large estates. A large table stone in the old cemetery above Fort Hill upon Anson Hooker's farm marks his burial place.

INCORPORATION

The charter of Hinsdale including land on both sides of the Connecticut was granted Sept. 3, 1753.

The first meeting was held, Sept. 25th, 1753. Orlando Bridgman was chosen chairman; Daniel Shattuck, John Evans and Benoni Wright were chosen selectmen; Col. Ebenezer Hinsdale, clerk; John Evans, treasurer; Caleb Howe, constable; Joseph Stebbins, Jr., Thomas Taylor, surveyors; Peter Evans, tythingman; Joseph Willard, Hinsdale, Bridgman, Howe and Stebbins committee to lot out land. These men were the founders of the town. Most of them came here from Northfield and were descendants of early colonists of Massachusetts and Connecticut, who came a hundred years before.

This charter granted in 1753 gave to Col. Hinsdale and his associates the rights they had possessed before they were cut off from Massachusetts. The boundaries of the town were fixed and included a large amount of territory, which had been granted to Winchester by Massachusetts in 1733 and all that part of Northfield east of the Connecticut river and north of the Massachusetts line.

MANUFACTURING INDUSTRIES

Manufacturing has long been the leading industry in Hinsdale. In passing through Main street, the traveler's attention is immediately attracted by a large four-story brick structure, 450 feet in length, for years known as the woolen factory of the Haile and Frost Mfg. Co. Here Caleb Todd began in the early part of the nineteenth century, the manufacture of woolen goods and his small factory became the nucleus of a large thriving industry. He was succeeded by Daniel H. Ripley, Ripley and Todd, Haile and Todd, Haile and Frost, Haile, Frost and Co., and the Haile and Frost Mfg. Co. For years this mill held an excellent reputation for the excellence and variety of its products. The power was mainly derived from the Ashuelot river but steam was used as an auxiliary. In its best days from 300 to 350 operatives were employed. After the death of William Haile and Rufus S. Frost., the business was sold to Charles Bigelow, who continued the business under the name of the Haile & Frost Mfg. Co. Mr. Bigelow made many improvements on the property until it was in first-class condition and under his management the business continued to be successful until unfavorable tariff legislation brought on the recent hard times which were felt throughout the country. Then in common with other mills it was obliged to shut down and in the spring of 1909 was sold and the machinery moved out. The mill itself was purchased by a stock company composed of citizens interested in the town's welfare who are at present negotiating with various business firms with respect to settling here and it is confidently expected that the matter will soon be decided and a new industry be installed here.

The Hinsdale Woolen Co., successors to C. J. Amidon and Sons, who in turn succeeded Bishop and Boyden, is a staunch business enterprise which has continued to run despite the recent depression in the woolen business. These mills were started away back in 1840 and in 1862, Mr. C. J. Amidon became a partner in the firm of Bishop, Boyden and Amidon. At that time the mill had only one set of cards and employed thirty hands, who occupied a small building near the present factory. Mr. Bishop died in 1864 and the mill was conducted by Boyden and Amidon until 1871, when at the death of Dr. Boyden, Mr. Amidon became sole proprietor. In 1874 his oldest son, P. F. Amidon became a member of the firm. Under Mr. Amidon's skillful management, great improvements have been made and the output of the mill has steadily increased. The original building, 50 feet long, has been enlarged to the present structure, 110x44 feet with an ell 30x30, three stories high with dye house and other buildings making in all an excellent equipment. Mr. C. J. Amidon died in 1900 and in his death Hinsdale lost one of her most public spirited citizens, one always on the lookout for the town's highest welfare and her representative in the legislature for six years, and Senator from Cheshire Co. The business has since been conducted by P. Frank Amidon. At present ninety hands are employed.

The Brightwood Mills, owned by George C. Fisk of Springfield, Mass., are extensive manufacturers of manila paper. This mill was built in 1873 by Messrs. George C. Fisk and R. Henry Hopkins. Upon the death of Mr. Hopkins Mr. Fiske became the sole owner with Charles B. Hopkins as agent, the latter continuing in that position until his death in 1900. In the early days, this mill manufactured heavy wrapping paper, later a lighter weight manila and at the present time the very light weight tissues for which they have a constant demand. There are 30 employees.

G. A. Robertson & Co., are also manufacturers of a standard quality of manila paper. Thomas and Cutting established a papermill here in 1845. Sixty years ago George Robertson purchased their mill and moved to Hinsdale. His brother John was in company with him both in this mill and one in Putney until 1856.

In 1851, this mill was destroyed by fire and immediately rebuilt. In 1863 fire again consumed the buildings. In 1865 the mill was once more in working order but in 1881 this mill and part of its machinery were wrecked by the bursting of what is called a rotary bleach. Mr. Robertson was still undaunted and the next spring found him with a better mill, more machinery and a much greater capacity than before. In 1882, Mr. Robertson was killed by a falling derrick. The present firm is composed of George A. and Orrin C. Robertson, sons of the former owner. This plant is 210 by 50 feet and is run mainly by water power with steam as an auxiliary. Within the past two years they have doubled their steam capacity. Two brothers, Frank W. and Edwin C., both residents of this town own and operate paper mills in the neighboring village of Ashuelot. All four are highly esteemed citizens.

The Granite State Mowing Machine Co. was first started by Mr. Cyrus Newhall in 1836. In 1856 Mr. Lorenzo Stebbins went into partnership with Mr. Newhall with the firm name of Newhall and Stebbins. In 1860 they began the manufacture of mowing machines—the old Granite state field mower which for years was recognized as a high-class machine. In 1881, they began the manufacture of lawn mowers, of which they have since made a specialty. In 1903, the business was sold to a stock company of which Frank E. Snow of Greenfield is president and Herbert E. Fisher, secretary and treasurer, the new company taking the name of the Granite State Mowing Machine Co. Since then the business has rapidly increased. In 1906 they began the manufacture of lawn trimmers which have proved a very popular machine. About 15,000 machines are manufactured yearly and sent to nearly all parts of Europe, to Australia, Africa, New Zealand, South America, Mexico and Canada as well as throughout the United States.

The Connecticut River Power Co. are completing the construction of a dam upon the Connecticut just north of Cooper's Point, where a natural rock foundation was found. This dam was begun in May, 1907. The present capital stock is $2,000,000 which will soon be increased to $3,220,000. This is the highest voltage plant in New England. It now furnishes 15,000 horsepower and it will later reach 25,000. The spillway is 600 ft. long, the power-house 250 feet, the height 60 feet. It forms a lake 16 miles long setting the water back as far as Bellows Falls. Transmission lines will carry 66,000 volts. Power has already been engaged for the big Lancaster mills in Clinton and for use in Fitchburg, and Worcester, Mass., and Brattleboro, Vt., and negotiations are in progress for furnishing power for the Orange, Athol and Gardner street railway.

The Eagle Iron Foundry was first established by Thomas W. Sabin, who sold to Merriman and Martin. Mr. Martin soon retired and the business was conducted by C. D. Merriman until November, 1889, when Frank W. Tilden, who had been superintendent since 1885, became one of the firm. Upon the death of Mr. Merriman in 1900, Mr. Tilden became the sole proprietor. The firm has carried on a general foundry business, an important feature of which was the making of the iron castings for the Granite State Mowing Machine Co. They also do work for the Porter Machine Co., Hatfield, for Wells Bros. of Greenfield and Stockbridge Machine Co. of Worcester.

April 1st, 1907, this foundry was totally destroyed by fire, but so promptly was it rebuilt that they were again at work in just seven weeks from the date of the fire. At present there are forty employees, the full capacity being fifty.

M. S. Leach, carriage manufacturer, makes especial success of the manufacture of heavy wagons and sleighs. Other industries are J. R. Holman's machine shop and W. B. Stacey's box shop.

MILITARY AFFAIRS

Loyalty to country was early manifest by a prompt response to the call for volunteers. On May 11. 1861, the town voted to raise fifteen hundred dollars to fit out volunteers and care for their families. Soon many enlisted. Various meetings were held in which people evinced a desire to do their part in supporting those who were willing to risk their lives in their country's defense. August 9, 1862, the town voted to pay $200 to all who would enlist and to raise $8,000 which was double the amount necessary as it proved that Hinsdale's quota was twenty instead of forty. But forty had enlisted, thirty-seven in one day, and as all were determined to go, the full $8,000 was voted paid. Large amounts were later raised to aid in supporting soldiers' families. The following is a list of the men credited to this town who enlisted during the service:

CHURCH AFFAIRS

The first mention made of church affairs we find that church and state had not become separated. March 12, 1754, the town voted to make Daniel Shattuck's house a place of meeting.

In 1754, the town raised 46£ 4s 6d to defray charges for preaching and to tax lands to provide for the building of a meeting-house and settlement of a minister. Col. Hinsdale was appointed a member of a committee to select a site for a meeting-house. Four years later the town voted to complete the outside of the meeting-house, lay the floor and hire preaching This house was located near the present home of Mrs. C. C. Dix to accommodate those living across the Connecticut. Peter Evans was the first deacon of the church. The Rev. Bunker Gay became the first pastor in 1763, at a salary of forty-five pounds and a yearly increase of one pound until it should amount to 50 pounds, with 100 pounds as a settlement and thirty cords of wood annually. The meeting-house was not finished until long after because the people were poor and for fear of being driven away by Indians. Services were held there until 1808 when Vernon became a separate town and a second edifice was built on top of the hill on Brattleboro street known as Streeter's hill. This steeple was visible for a long distance and a source of much pride to townspeople. But the building stood for twenty-five years after completion before a pastor was hired, a period known as "the dark ages of the church in Hinsdale." The pulpit was occasionally supplied and a Sunday school formed.

The early church records having been destroyed and the church supplied by ministers of different denominations, a council was called and a Congregational society reorganized May 17, 1832. Rev. Eliphalet Strong, a Harvard graduate, was ordained over a church of 15 members which was soon increased. In 1835 he was succeeded by Rev. Jos. Marsh, the same year a new church was erected in the village. Rev. Gardner S. Brown succeeded to the pastorate, controversies arose forming dissensions in the church, and many withdrew. In 1844, Rev. Moses Gerould became pastor, followed in 1856, after two years with no settled minister by Rev. Moses H. Wells. He resigned because of failing health in 1865. Rev. J. S. Batchelder was pastor from 1866 to 1871, Rev. C. C. Watson from 1871 to 1877 and Rev. H. H. Hamilton was chosen pastor March, 1878. He was succeeded by Rev. R. J. Mooney, July, 1887. During his pastorate the church was much improved by the addition of memorial windows. In October, 1889, Rev. Stephen Smith became pastor and remained until 1893. In November of that year, Rev. W. E. Renshaw assumed the pastorate, being succeeded in January, 1901 by Rev. W. F. White. During his pastorate quite extensive repairs were made, the church was newly frescoed and carpeted and new pews added. In the fall of 1908, Rev. Minot S. Hartwell, the present pastor, assumed charge. The number of families is at present 150 with church membership of 136 and a Sunday school with a total membership of 225, including the Home department.

The Universalist Church

This church was organized Oct. 4, 1833 and was the outgrowth of controversies arising in the older society above referred to. At its first meeting Otis Doolittle was chosen moderator, Ivah Newton, clerk; Pliny Smith, treasurer; Henry Ide, Thomas J. Pierce and Arad Cooper, trustees. They built a church in 1840. During these early days, the society was unable to hire continuous preaching. Rev. Wm. N. Barber, Rev. C. May and others supplied the pulpit. From 1852 to 1874 were dark days for the society. April 26, 1874 the society was reorganizd by the Rev. Moses H. Harris of Brattleboro. May 3, 1874 he received thirty-two into the church and goodly additions at several subsequent meetings. For a few years Winchester and Hinsdale united in hiring a pastor. The pastors since Mr. Harris have been as follows: Rev. George Babbitt, 1878-1880; Rev. A. A. Rice, 1881-83; Rev. E. A. Reed, 1884-1888, Rev. D. L. Fisher, 1888-92; Rev. Marion Yager, 1892-93; Rev. H. E. Lesh, 1893-94; Rev. J. H. Little, 1894-95; Rev. A. A. Blair, 1895-96; Rev. D. L. Fisher, 1897-99; Rev. J. P. Marvin, 1899-01; Rev. R. D. Van Tassel, 1902-03; Rev. H. G. Roscoe, 1903-1905; Rev. W. H. Trickey, 1905-1907, and the present pastor, Rev. J. R. Weakley.

During recent years the church has made many improvements upon church and parsonage and are at present in a prosperous condition, having 90 families, a Sunday school of 60 members, an efficient ladies' aid society and a Young People's Christian Union.

Methodist Episcopal

In 1842, this society was organized with a class of eight members and in the first year received large additions. The church now numbers fifty members, the Sunday school eighty members. The church was built in 1875 and has sittings for 300. The first minister appointed in 1843 was Franklin Thurber, then followed Revs. Jared Perkins, Samuel McKean, Charles Chase, H. M. Matterson, W. H. Jones, John Hillman, A. C. Hardy, Henry Dow, Edward Bradford, A. C. Colt, F. J. Folsom,

J. L. Felt, C. E. Felt, 1885-86; W. H. Stuart, 87-88; F. C. Libby, 89-90; Wm. Love, 90-91; C. W. Williams, 91-92; F. O. Tyler, 92-93; J. H. Knott, 94-95; T. W. Sprowls; 96-97; H. E. Parker, 97; J. G. Cairns, 98-99; E. J. Dean, 99-1902; C. A. Reed, 1903-04; W. J. Wilkins, 1905-06, and Rev. George R. Locke, who has held the pastorate since 1907.

St. Joseph's Catholic

The first Mass said in this town was by Father Daly in 1849 in the house of John Hanrahan. Rev. John Brady came in 1856 and celebrated Mass in the town hall and occasionally in the house of John O'Brien. In 1866, Rev. Wm. Herbert officiated here regularly once a month in the town hall. Father Murphy later officiated here until the appointment of Rev. W. P. Danner to the pastorate, taking his residence at Ashuelot in 1875. From 1877 to 1884, it was served by priests of North Walpole, Father Cournoyer buying the land on which was subsequently built St. Joseph's church. Rev. J. J. Holahan became the pastor in 1884 and the church was completed in 1886, being dedicated by Rt. Rev. Bishop. The ensuing year, the rectory was built and August, 1888, Rev. L. M. Wilde was appointed to the pastorate. The altar of this church is a very handsome one, being finished in gold and white and set in an apsidal chancel. This is a large, strong society especially during the days when manufacturing is at its best, Rev. L. M. Wilde was succeeded by Rev. D. C. Ling and the present pastor is Rev P. S. Cahill.

Baptist

At present, there is no society of this name but they have a church and serviecs are held once or twice each year. The history of this denomination in Hinsdale dates back to November 8, 1800, when a few of this faith in consultation with brethren from Guilford, Vt. resolved to form a Baptist society and adopted the articles of faith. In 1809, Rev. Joseph Elliot was ordained as the first settled pastor, preaching alternately at Hinsdale and Chesterfield. Elder Packer was called in 1818 and at the close of his service in 1827 Elisha Andrews succeeded him. The first meeting house was erected in 1810. In 1853, the present church edifice at North Hinsdale was erected. Preaching is still sustained there a part of the time, but not often by a Baptist minister. In 1873 the organization moved its place of worship to Hinsdale village, and the church edifice was erected and dedicated the ensuing year. The church was dedicated free of debt largely through the generosity of Gen. Jacob Estey, of Brattleboro, a native of Hinsdale. Rev. C. W. Burnham was the first pastor, Rev. William H. Woodall was pastor from 1898 to 1900 but there proved to be so few adherents of this faith in the town that it was decided best to disband and attend other Protestant churches though once or twice during the year the church is opened for services.

PHYSICIANS

None are more intimately associated with the history of a town than they who have safe-guarded the lives and health of her citizens. First came Dr. Frederick Boyden, who located here about 1836 after graduating at Harvard Medical school. For a quarter of a century he was the only doctor permanently located in town. As a sound, skillful practitioner he ranked very high among physicians of his day.

Associated with Dr. Boyden for a few years was Dr. William S. Leonard, who later became Hinsdale's "beloved physician." Gifted as a scholar, skillful in his profession, genial and social with all, it is no wonder that he came to be regarded as the family friend and trusted physician throughout the Ashuelot valley. A man of great literary ability, the work of his pen was in constant demand in town and out. He was deeply interested in everything pertaining to the welfare of the town and especially along educational lines, giving efficient service for many years on the board of education and, as a member of the library committee from its establishment his influence and work there will be felt for years to come. Contemporaneous with him was Dr. Mahlon C. Dix who was also a highly esteemed physician and Dr. C. A. Gray, our "veteran doctor." Then came F. H. Burnett, Dr. Henri F. Beland and Dr. A. Houle, each of whom were here for short terms only, Dr. A. A. Pratt and Dr. A. J. LaChaine who were settled here for several years, the former moving to Keene. The present physicians are Drs. C. A. Gray, James B. Roberts, Herbert L. Brown and George H. Foss.

EDUCATIONAL

The schools of this town followed the old district system until 1877, when two or three districts near the village united and built a union school-house. In 1878 a town High school was organized which proved a very important element in our school system. Because of its establishment, a more thorough organization in the lower schools became a necessity and they were then graded into two primary, two secondary and one grammar.

In 1884 the district system was abolished and the town system adopted. This town was the first in the county to adopt this plan, which the legislature later made compulsory. In recent years more thorough grading has been done and in 1908 the town succeeded in combining with Dublin and Swanzey in procuring a supervisor, a step long contemplated. Mr. H. H. Pratt was selected for this position and under his efficient leadership much better results are expected.

The High school has had excellent standing, its graduates having been accepted into any New England college and many have availed themselves of the advontage. Charles P. Hall was its first principal from 1878-1888 with Hattie C. Lyman as assistant. Then followed Robert A. Ray from 1889 to 1894. Charles H. Patterson became principal in 1894, a second assistant was added, and under him the schools reached a very high standard of efficiency. In 1899, Daniel L. Fisher succeeded Mr. Patterson and held the position until 1908 when Charles L. Clement was chosen principal.

The Hinsdale Public Library

In 1867 the nucleus of the present town library was first instituted by an association, each member subscribing a certain number of shares at three dollars each, an annual assessment being made upon each member drawing books, for the maintenance and support of the library. The association prospered beyond the hope of the most sanguine until in 1875, when by mutual agreeement between the town and the association, the town assumed the custody of all the books (numbering about one thousand volumes) and of all other property pertaining to the library, the whole valued at fully one thousand dollars, the town agreeing therefor to provide a suitable room for the library, keep it in good condition and raise a sum not less than $300 annually for its enlargement and improvement.

The library was then moved from a small room in a private house to a commodious room in the town hall building. In 1899 a public reading-room was opened in connection with the library. Jan. 6, 1900, the town hall was destroyed by fire. Owing to prompt assistance nearly five thousand volumes were carried to a place of safety, only 107 volumes were found to be missing but naturally considerable damage was done to books. Convenient rooms were found in Fiske's Block, where both reading room and library found a temporary home. At this time it was decided to re-catalogue the library and have a card catalog. This work was done by Miss Annie J. Gray, who had had experience in the Boston Public Library.

Upon the completion of the new town hall in 1902, the library was moved into attractive and commodious quarters there, which were furnished with up-to-date library furnishings Gifts of paintings, portraits, busts, etc., were donated, adding much to the library's attractiveness.

Since that time the library has been open every evening and Wednesday and Saturday afternoons. In 1902, the appropriation was raised to $700 and that amount has since been appropriated annually. With the exception of a few small gifts the library has been supported wholly by the town. It has long been the wish of those most interested that some one might see fit to endow it.

Miss Althea Stearns was librarian from the time the library was founded until 1889, when she was succeeded by Mrs. Martha L. Stearns, who served in that capacity until 1898. Miss Nellie Gray filled the position until 1900, when Miss Lucy E. G. Spooner succeeded her. Upon her resignation in 1905, Miss Charlotte S. Slate was appointed to the position and still retains it. There are at present 7,200 catalogued books, 616 government and state reports and 623 pamplets and maps.

NEWSPAPERS

The Star Spangled Banner was established here by Hunter & Co., in 1863, and was published until April, 1883. At this time, the Hinsdale post office was one of 50 in the United States, having the most mail originate therefrom

The Progress was started in 1884, and discontinued in 1885

The Valley Record was established in December, 1885, by Henry E. Hunter, but soon purchased by Bourne Spooner, and edited by him until August, 1896.

The Quill was published by the High School from March, 1896 to January, 1900.

At present no paper is published in town.

History of Walpole

INDIAN ACCOUNT

Walpole, in common with so many other towns, had to battle with the redskins before safety and security of home or life could be assured her pioneers. The tales of these early conflicts reflect the treachery of the indians as well as the bravery and fortitude of the early settlers, and many has been the youth whose hair has been made to stand on end as he listened to the stories of the fear and danger overhanging his rugged ancestors in their forest homes. However, we should not blame too severely the unlettered, uncivilized redman, for he was being deprived of his home, his hunting-ground, his fishing places; he fought by treachery, it is true, but that was the only method known to his race and had been followed from his earliest history.

The first real encounter recorded as having taken place with the Indians in this region, is that between the English on one side and the Franch and Indians on the other, in 1745. Nehemiah How was taken captive, and David Rugg was killed and scalped.

Sometime between 1751 and 1755, a party of Indians came to the home of John Kilburn, Walpole's first settler and invited him to come to trade with them at the falls, an invitation he accepted. These redskins stayed in this vicinity some time without committing any depredations. It was soon learned that a concerted movement was being made by a large body of Indians in Canada, to attack and wipe out the settlements. During the spring of 1755 their operations here began. A Mr. Flynt and Daniel Twitchell were both shot in the woods; one was scalped, the other's heart was cut out, cut in pieces and laid about over his breast. Flynt was buried on the spot about a mile and a half from Walpole village, on the Drewsville road.

On April 17, 1755, a large party of Indians, about 400 in all, were discovered near John Kilburn's home. Mr. Kilburn and his son, John, succeeded in reaching the house and there made preparations for a stubborn resistance.

Col. Bellows this day was working with his men at his mill, about a mile east, so the Indians determined to attack them before molesting the Kilburns. Col. Bellows succeeded in escaping with his men to the fort without any loss, through sharp strategy.

The Indians being deceived as to the number of his forces, returned to Kilburn's. Aldrich's history treats this incident as follows:

"The Indians next appeared on the eminence east of Kilburn's house, when the same 'old Devil', Philip, who had visited him the summer before, came forward, and, screening himself behind a tree, called out to those in the house to surrender. 'Old John, young John' says he, 'I know you, come out here—We give ye good quarter!' 'quarter!' vociferated old Kilburn, with a voice of thunder that rang through every Indian's heart and every hill and valley, 'You black rascals, begone or we'll quarter you!' * * * * *

"Philip then returned to his companions and after a few minutes the war whoop commenced as if (to use the expression of an ear witness) all the devils in hell had been let loose. Kilburn was so lucky as to get the first fire before the smoke of the enemy's guns obstructed his aim, and was confident he saw an Indian fall, which from his extraordinary size and other appearances must have been Philip. The Indians rushed forward to the work of destruction; and probably no less than four hundred bullets were lodged in Kilburn's house the first fire. The roof was a 'perfect riddle seive!' * * * * Meanwhile Kilburn and his men were by no means idle. Their powder was poured into hats for the convenience of loading in a hurry and everything prepared for a spirited defence or a glorious death. They had several guns in the house which were kept hot by incessant firing through the port holes, and, as they had no ammunition to spare each took aim to have every bullet tell. Several attempts were made to burst open the door, but the bullets from within scattered death with such profusion as soon compelled them to desist from the rash undertaking. All the afternoon one incessant firing was kept up, till nearly sundown, when the Indians began to disappear; and as the sun sank behind the western hills the sound of the guns and the cry of the war whoop died away in silence."

This gallant defence of three men against four hundred probably stands unequaled in New England as a deed of human bravery and valor. By this courageous stand the settlers broke the attempt of the Indians to slaughter the settlers and ended the attempts in this vicinity. Peak, by exposing himself before the port holes was wounded and for lack of surgical aid died as a result within a week.

EARLY SETTLEMENT

Walpole was granted to Col. Benjamin Bellows, Theodore Atkinson and Col. Josiah Blanchard and sixty-seven other by Governor Wentworth in 1752 by the following charter:

"George II, by advice of Benning Wentworth, Governor, granted unto his loving subjects, inhabitants of New Hampshire, and his majesty's other governments, in equal shares whose names are entered on this grant, to be divided among them in sixty-seven equal shares, all that tract of land in said province of New Hampshire, described etc., etc. And the same is incoporated as Walpole, and the inhabitants thereof are enfranchised and declared entitled to the privileges of other towns in said province, and as soon as there shall be fifty families resident there, shall have the liberty of holding two fairs, annually, and shall also have a market opened and kept one or more days in each week, as may be thought advantageous. The first meeting of said town shall be held the third Wednesday of March next, (1752), and Benjamin Bellows is appointed moderator of such meeting, and to call the same.

"To hold said land upon these conditions, namely, every grantee shall within five years, cultivate five acres of land for every fifty acres of his share, and shall continue to improve and settle the same by additional cultivation, on penalty of forfeiture of his share.

"That all white and other pine trees, fit for our royal navy, be preserved for use, and none be cut or felled without his majesty's special license upon same forfeiture and punishment of any acts of parliament now or hereafter enacted.

"That before division of land, a tract or center of township shall be marked in town-lots, one of which shall be allotted to each grantee of the contents of one acre, yielding and paying therefor to us, etc., for ten years, one ear of Indian corn annually, on first day of January, if lawfully demanded.

"Every proprietor, settler, or inhabitant shall yield and pay to us, etc., yearly, after the expiration of ten years, one shilling proclamation money, for every hundred acres he so owns, settles or possesses, and so in proportion for greater or less tracts, which said money shall be paid to our council-chamber, or to officers, appointed to receive it.

(Signed by) "BENNING WENTWORTH.

"In testimony etc., Feb. 13, 1752, and twenty-fifth year of George's reign.

Recorded by Theodore Atkins, Sec."

Nine years after the date of the charter, the grantees represented that by reason of Indian wars it had become impossible to comply with the conditions of the first document and the time was lengthened from year to year. This second document was dated March 12, 1761, the first year of the reign of George III.

Actual Settlement

We are told that in 1749, John Kilburn, his wife Ruth, daughter Mehitable, and son John were settled about a quarter of a mile south of Cold River and a little northeast of the Mrs. Joseph Wells place.

Rev. Thomas Fessenden writing Jeremy Belknap, Jan. 29th, 1791, says "One family settled here in the spring of 1749, under the Bay claim; but the Hampshire proprietors began in 1742, and Col. Bellows moved his family here in 1753. The family at that time consisted of himself and wife and five children. His children were: Abigail, who died before the settlement here: Peter, Benjamin, John, Joseph. Col. Bellows built his habitant about 1752, and served both as a dwelling and also as fort, being strong and commodious.

It was not long after the coming of Col. Bellows that the town began to be quite generally settled. Within a short time the following were here: Theodore Atkinson, Samuel Johnson, Robert Bowker, Col. Willard, Enoch Cook, Daniel Twitchell.

About 1760 arrangements were made for the establishing of a minister in town. A call was extended to Rev. Jona. Leavitt, who accepted the call in 1761 and was ordained in June of that year. For some reason he became unpopular with the people of his flock and was dismissed in 1764. Soon after Rev. Jona. Moore was settled and remained for some years. His successor was Thomas Fessenden. Other settlers about this time were: Nath. Hovey, Edmund Jackson, Jeremiah Phelps, Asa Baldwin, and John W. Hayward.

Of these settlers Col. Bellows was by far the most prominent. He was the "great man" of the town, serving as leader in industrial, social and political life. Next to him John Kilburn is best remembered for he was a true Spartan, his courageous fight against the dangers of the forest, wild beasts and that far more dreaded foe, the Indians, being equalled by few of the pioneers of that strenuous period in our national life. Mention of the famous "Kilburn Fight" is found elsewhere in this account.

Prior to the outbreak of the Revolution the town was well established and had been firmly set upon its way to future prosperity and progress.

All honor is due these men of iron will and splendid moral and physical natures. Their courage and fortitude should ever be a source of just pride to their descendants.

CHURCH HISTORY

The First Congregational Church of Walpole

This church was formed in 1757 with Jonathan Leavitt the settled minister. Mr. Leavitt was installed June 10, 1761 .

The next pastor, Mr. Leavitt, having been unable to continue in harmony with the people of his charge, was Rev. Thomas Fessenden. He was ordained January 7, 1767 and served for 38 years.

The members of the church as recorded at the time of his ordination were Thomas Fessenden, Col. Benj. Bellows, John Graves, John Parmenter, William Smead, Jona. Hall, James Bundy, Jos. Barrett, David Dennison, Jno. Marcy, Sam'l Holmes, Sam'l Trott, Jno. Kilburn, Jr., Timothy Delano, Nath. Harvey, with the wives of ten of the above, making twenty-five in all. Eight years later the membership numbered one hundred persons.

In 1769 Isaac Johnson was suspended on complaint of James Bundy because of too severe drinking, but was restored to his former membership on making confession and promising less frequent and heavy indulgence in the cup.

On October 11, 1770 Nathan Bundy complained of Isaac Stowell for alleged falsehood and theft in which Bundy himself was an accomplice. Both were temporarily suspended but later restored to membership and full enjoyment of their spiritual standing.

Pliny Dickinson succeeded Mr. Fessenden in 1805. Dickinson soon after married Mary, the daughter of Caleb Bellows, but against the will of the father of Mary. The father objected on account of disparity in the ages of the two lovers. However, the marriage was consumated and a long and happy union resulted.

When the matter of removal of the meeting house to the village was brought up much dissension arose and resulted in another society being organized. The new society was known as "The Independent Congregational Society" and was organized in 1826. Rev. Mr. Dickinson preached a part of the time for them till 1831. In 1831 Edwin Jennison became their pastor but as this society was made up of many discordant elements and Mr. Jennison was a staunch Congregationalist, discord ensued very shortly. The upshot of this was the formation of a new society known as the "Orthodox Church and Society."

Orthodox Church and Society

This society was formed in 1832, on November 20, and had the following membership: William Jennison, Thomas Seaver, George Kilburn, Orville Jennison, Calvin Blake, and William Guild. The Society was called "The First Congregational Church and Society in Walpole." Rev. Z. S. Barstow succeeded in raising sufficient money to warrant the building of a church edifice and saw the same completed in 1833. Till 1835 Edwin Jennison occupied the desk as pastor. Then he was succeeded by R. B. Beckwith who stayed only about 10 months being followed by Abraham Jackson from 1837 to 1845. E. H. Barstow officiated from 1845 till 1851. Other pastors have been as follows: Alfred Goldsimth, 1851-53; John M. Stowe, 1855-62; G. H. DeBevoise, 1865-68; Wm. E. Dickinson, 1870-75; T. S. Robie, 1875-76; F. L. Allen, 1877; W. H. Teeele, 1886-89; G. I. Bard, 1890-97; E. A. Keep, 1898-03; W. F. Warren, 1904.

In 1874 the church was extensively repaired at a cost of $6,000.

Walpole Town Congregational Church

This church was made up from the membership of the old church prior to the division in 1826. The first pastor was Rev. Mr. Thayer. In 1830 a call was extended to Wm. A. Whitmore, a Unitarian, the first clergyman of that faith in town. B. A. A. Bronson was next in service from 1833 to 1834. Rev. Horatio Wood served as pastor from 1834 till 1838. The next was Wm. Silsby, 1840 to 1842.

The Unitarian Meeting house was erected in 1842 and the next pastor was Martin W. Willis.

From 1848 to 1855 Wm. P. Tilden served.

In 1856 Rev. Mr. Lothrop succeeded to the pastorate, remaining only about a year. His successor was Wm. Rouney, a supply. For a year following 1858 Chas. Ritter served.

C. T. Canfield was pastor in 1860 and Thos. Dawes from 1861 to 1865.

From 1865 to 1868 Nath. Seaver, Jr., was pastor.

R. N. Bellows supplied for a short time 1869. Geo. Dexter was pastor from 1870 to 1873. He was followed by Rev. Wm. Brown, 1873; John Williams, 1886; G. W. Patten, 1888-1890; F. I. Thacher, 1892-3; B. F. Crooks, 1894-5; F. W. Pratt, 1897-00; W. H. Nichols, 1901-06; S. R. Maxwell, 1907.

Universalist Society

This church was organized in 1836, being one wing of the "Independent Congregational Society." It was called "The First Universalist Society in Walpole." The first preacher was Daniel Ackley. After two years or so, Rev. Charles Woodhouse and others preached for ten or twelve years. The society soon crumbled and the church edifice was allowed to go to decay. It was sold in 1869.

Methodist Episcopal Society

This body was organized in 1842 as station in connection with Langdon. Jno. P. Prouty was appointed preacher for the year. Meetings were held in the town hall. A chapel was completed in 1845. It was sold in 1868 to the Roman Catholics.

The ministers of the society follow: 1844, Kimball Hadley; 1845, I. W. Huntley; 1846, A. S. Tenney; 1848, S. Eastman; 1850, D. P. Leavitt; 1851, S. P. Heath; 1854, O. S. Morris; 1855-56, H. Chandler and H. F. Forrestall; supplies, 1857-58, P. Wallingford and Chas. Lewis.

The United Religious Christian Society

This society was formed in 1817 through the preaching of E. B. Rollins. A church was formed in December of this year. By 1823 Mr. J. B. Burnham had become pastor. About this time there was a division between the followers of Rollins and Burnham. Rollins' supporters built an edifice on "The Flat" near "March Hill." In 1826 Burnham's followers erected a church at the "Hollow." Rollins' society soon ceased. The Burnham Society continued for many years, he staying as pastor till 1845 or 1850. He then began the practice of medicine. Some of the various pastors are among the following: E. B. Rollins, J. B. Burnham, A. Kidder, J. Farnam, C. W. Martin, Wm. H. Ireland, J. L. Greene, S. Hinkley, D. B. Murray, N. S. Chadwick, J. N. Woodward and C. W. Simonds.

Recent pastors of the Christian church have been H. M. Eaton, 1886; J. E. Bruce, 1887-88; A. Allen, 1889; H. M. Eaton, 1890-93; J. F. Scott, 1900; J. S. Coggswell, 1903 to present time.

Episcopal Society

This society was at Drewsville and first known as "The First Protestant Episcopal Society of Walpole." It began in 1816, the first meeting in 1817 at the house of Thos. C. Drew. The first rector was Leeman Foote. In 1836 the stone chapel was built. At the time the chapel was consecrated the name was changed to "Saint Peter's Church." In 1867 inside repairs were made at a cost of about $2,000. E. A. Renouf was pastor from 1886 till 1894.

Baptists

At Drewsville, a merchant by the name of Samuel Nichols at his own expense built a chapel for the Baptist Denomination in 1836 or 37. The building was used many years for worship but later was converted into a carpenter shop.

Catholic Church

This society has maintained worship here since before 1870. They bought the Methodist Chapel in 1868. Their pastors have been since 1886 the following: N. Conenyer, till 1891; G. H. Feeney, 1891; J. T. Hallahan, 1892-1896; J. Corcoran, 1897-98; J. J. Houlihan, 1900; F. R. Wild, 1901.

At North Walpole Louis M. Wild has had charge of the Catholic Society since 1891.

EDUCATIONAL ACCOUNT

Even in the early days when poverty and privation beset the pioneers the education of their children was not neglected. As early as 1768 three schools were established by the town, one was near the old church, taught by Ebenezer Swan, the first male teacher in town; one near Cold River, the third in the "valley." Two or three years later three school houses were built. In 1778, when the population was but 700, 100 pounds, or 500 dollars was raised for schools. In the early days the only text books were the New England Primer, The Psalter, Dodworth's spelling book and the New Testament. It is said that in some instances poor children learned to write on birch bark. About 1807 a brick school house was built in the village on the corner of Elm and West streets. William G. Field, a lawyer, taught a select school there between 1820 and 1830. In 1831 several persons secured a charter and established an academy. They erected a building and began with Chas. H. Allen, a Harvard graduate as principal. The principals were Mr. Pritchard, Mr. Packard, Julius L. James, in 1857. Miss Ann Bellows preceptress and teacher of music. The whole number of pupils during the year was 193. After Mr. Jones left H. F. Harrington had charge of the school; John Nichols, Mr. Seagrove, John N. Bellows, Fisher Rice, John Goldsbury and S. H. McCollister were other principals. In 1854 the Academy suspended. Since then the high school maintained by the town has filled its place and bids fair to improve and advance in steps with the needs of those who attend.

The Civil War

Walpole's part in the war of 1861-65 is noteworthy. Her citizens were prompt in their response to the nation's call for assistance and efficient in their service when mustered into the ranks. The story of the sufferings of the hardy faithful men who left homes, hopes and dear ones behind, threw their lives into the balance, many never to see the beautiful green hills of their native state and town, deserve the very best praise the tongues of posterity can uttter; the greatest tributes that can be paid to human achievement; for never did men serve in a greater cause nor win a more decisive victory for all mankind.

Soldiers of the War of 1812

This town saw but little active effort in this conflict as the operations were far removed and were waged at the instance of a different part of the country. However one company was sent to Portsmouth to do coast defence duty. We give the following names of those serving:

Josiah Bellows, 3d, Captain; Nath. Chapin, clerk; Stephen Tiffany, corporal; James Priest, fifer; privates, Daniel Hubbard, Elisha Angier, Ephraim Holland, Ziba Lovell, Israel Brown, John Griggs, David Perkins, Samuel Ruggles, Abel Page, Ransom Lawrence, Willard Johnson, Nathan Conant, Benjamin Miller, Gordon Beckwith, Thos. Nichols, Jr., William Wellington, Ebenezer Watkins, Frederick Scoville, Alfred Priest, James Sturtevant, John Bundy, John Marshall, Edmund P. Davis, Samuel A. Wightman and John Graves, servant.

With Capt. Warner's company were Aaron Baker, sergt.;

Wm. Wyman, 2d Lieut.; privates, Elijah Cooper, Prentiss Foster, Samuel Grant, Charles Kingsbury, Levi Leonard, Samuel Nichols, Luther Ripley, Charles Titus, George Way, and Amasa Wheeler.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

SAVINGS BANK ROBBERY

In November, 1864, the Savings Bank here, incorporated in 1853 was robbed of about $52,000 in money and various kinds of securities, the greater part of which belonged to Col. A. Herbert Bellows. David Buffum was president of the bank and Benj. Aldrich was treasurer. The offices of the bank were in the store of Mr. Aldrich. By securing the keys to the safe the robbers made a very successful haul and escaped leaving scarcely any clews. Later one Mark Shinburn of Saratoga, N. Y. was implicated in the crime, arrested and sentenced to prison. With him was tried for complicity in the robbery one George White. The jury dissagreed in White's case and a subsequent trial was ordered. Both escaped but Shinburn was recaptured and sent to prison. White afterwards served time for complicity in another bank robbery at Barre, Vt. Shinburn later escaped and was never recaptured.

Most of the money was recovered but not enough to settle the debts of the bank and a ten per cent. loss was sustained.

TOBACCO CULTURE

Just prior to 1870 the farmers of this town conceived the idea of growing tobacco. Fabulous prices for help and fertalizers were paid and nearly all the farmers devoted themselves to the growing of this product. It very soon became apparent that the industry was unprofitable and was abandoned in a large measure. It was however continued to a certain degree for several years. As many as 100 tons were raised yearly for a few years.

NORTH WALPOLE

This settlement was started prior to 1820, but up to that time few settlers had located there. Solon Olcott, the Chapin Brothers, Levi and Jonathan, an Englishman by the name of Atkinson and Sylvanus Johnson were among the first there. The latter, Johnson, was a very eccentric man, often erecting a wigwam in the woods and staying out of the paths of civilization for weeks at a time. He always maintained that the mode of life of the Indians was superior to that of the whites.

DREWSVILLE

This part of the town was settled prior to 1800. About 1810 Col. Thomas C. Drew, who foresaw the opportunities the water power furnished at that point, located there. Other settlers prior to Col. Drew were one Jones, Uri Fairbanks and a few other families. Col. Drew established manufacturing industries and was soon joined by others. About 1812 Mr. Jacob Putnam erected a plant but it was soon burned. A cotton mill was visited by the same fate. Other industries sprang up however and soon the hamlet grew into a prosperous village.

History of Winchester

This pleasant part of Cheshire County was granted to Col. Josiah Willard and his associates for valiant military service, June 21, 1733. The Ashuelot river, one of the largest tributaries to the Connecticut river from New Hampshire, runs through Winchester in a general southwesterly direction. Two miles from the center village is situated a beautiful body of water, formerly known as Humphrey's Pond, now called Forest Lake, the popular resort for Winchester and Keene people who have built nice summer houses on its western shore. Winchester village is neat, attractive and thriving. The citizens are justly proud of their fine new library building.

The Winchester National Bank began business May 30th, 1848. John H. Fuller was the first president. Since 1850 Henry Kingman, Hon. Wm. Haile, Edward C. Thayer have served. The Cashiers are here named in order: William B. Hale, Erastus Snow, O. Sprague, H. Abbott,

The Security Savings Bank began business in 1881. President Ansel Dickinson followed by Alonzo A. Ware; treasurer, Miss J. Grace Alexander, who is the first and only female bank treasurer elected and serving in New Hampshire.

The manufacturing interests of Winchester have been large and profitable for 60 years.

The Winchester National Bank in statement of June 23, 1909, shows resources of $364,639. Officers—Silas Hardy, president; F. P. Kilborn, cashier; J. Grace Alexander, assistant cashier. Directors, the President, Cashier, Horatio Colony, LaFell Dickinson, Frank Amidon, Lucy Jennings and Webster L. Rixford.

In this town there have lived seventy-three men whom we may nominate as pioneers in vital energy, in conscientious living and noble enterprise. They were fortunate and greatly favored with efficient and very capable wives. From these seventy-three families and others that came to join them in pioneer toils and sacrifices in the second generation, we find ample cause to write "Who's Who?" for if space permitted we could name more than "400" who would be found worthy. When the History of Winchester is completed the names that lead will be Stephen Hawkins, Ansel Dickinson, S. Wright, Philip Goss, Stephen Baker, Amzi Doolittle, John A. Powers, Alvin W. Ball, Daniel I. Emerson, James B. Turner, Jedediah Smith, Zenas Fairbanks, John Follett, Joshua Cook, Amos Putnam, Benjamin Carlton, Eliab Howard, Thomas Jewell, Asahel Jewell, Pliny Jewell, Marshall Jewell, Lyman B. Jewell, Joab F. CHURCH NOTES

CONGREGATIONAL

The Congregational church here was first instructed by Rev. Edward Billings in 1735. Nov. 24 a church of 12 members was organized and Rev. Joseph Ashley was ordained as pastor. His pastorate lasted till 1746, when the Indians burned the meeting-house and the 63 church members were scattered. In 1760, the 2nd meeting-house was built and in 1764 the second pastor, Rev. Micah Lawrence became in charge of 27 members, until 1777, when he was dismissed because of his sympathy with King George. The 3d pastor, Rev. Ezra Conant was settled Feb. 20, 1788, serving 74 members until Nov. 11, 1807. A new meeting-house was built in 1794. The fourth pastor was called during a period of religious declension in 1807. Rev. Experience Porter was the last minister hired by the town. He met with opposition in renewing the prayer-meetings, but in the 2½ years of his stay, 44 persons were received into the church. For 75 years the whole town had constituted one religious society, the orthodox, sometimes called the standing order. But from 1809 and for a century, now, the people have worshipped God and kept the Lord's day in two or more places and forms.

Rev. Salmon Bennett was the Congregational pastor from 1817 to 1823. 27 were added to the church during his pastorate and in 1819 the Sabbath school was first organized. Rev. Wm. Ely was the pastor evangelist in 1824-25 and this period is memorable for an extensive revival and the largest number of accessions (59).

Rev. Sereno Taylor came as acting pastor in 1827 and in the several years following was prospered with the church in adding 46 persons to its communion. Rev. Francis Danforth was installed Aug. 18, 1831. During his very faithful and especially efficient service the present commodious meeting-house was erected, and the society was prospered in a room distinctively its own, dedicated to Divine worship Nov. 25, 1834. There were 81 accessions during Mr. Danforth's pastorate which ended in 1839. Rev. John Thompson became pastor in 1840, having previously served the A. B. C. F. M. or A. M. A. in Georgia among the Cherokee Indians. He was signally blest in his work here and his zealous labor bore fruit of 128 accessions He "ceased at once, to work and live" April 3, 1846, and his weary body was buried in the town among the people he served so well. His translation to heavenly rest prepared the way for the long pastorate of Rev. John P. Humphrey, whose work in Winchester built large and abiding results in Christian character, from 1847 to 1867. There were 123 members added, a parsonage was secured, a granite basement placed under the meeting-house and a fund established for support of preaching. Rev. Elijah Harmon was ordained and installed Oct. 17, 1867.

During the following 18 years, there were 163 accessions,—Repairs upon the meeting-house, parsonage and ladies' church parlor cost $3,000. The church benevolence averages $250 beside the pastor's salary. Mr. Harmon's great-grandfather was a soldier in the battle of Bennington, Rev. Elijah Harmon was a Sergeant of the 52nd Mass. Vol.'s and present at the reducing of Fort Hudson. May 27th, 1886, Rev. M. S. Hartwell was installed and continued as pastor until March 29th, 1888. Nov. 24th, 1886 the church held its 150th anniversary. Rev. H. A. Hanaford was pastor from 1888 to 1898. In 1890 the church was incorporated. Rev. C. F. Roper was acting pastor from 1899 to Dec. 1, 1904. In 1899 Mrs. Julia B. Thayer inclosed a check for $5,000 as the gift of Mr. Edward C. Thayer to the 1st Congregational church of Winchester. Rev. William Ewell became the pastor in 1905, and continues. Pastor and people are rejoicing in the prosperity realized by this ancient church for a long period of years.

THE UNIVERSALIST CHURCH

Part of the 128 voters of the town who signed a protest in 1804 against being taxed to support the "Standing Order" were Universalists. In 1810 these families had the use of the town meeting house one Lord's day in four. They had preaching so until 1815. That year town and church affairs were separated.

The general convention of Universalists held here in 1796, in 1803, in 1813, and in 1829 had a strong and positive influence confirming the larger hope of the dissenting company. The first authentic record of a Universalist Society, is dated Oct. 11, 1828, Rev. W. S. Balch, minister. In 1831, The First Universal Restitution Church of Christ was organized, with preamble, confession and covenant, by 23 members, Benedict Saben and Elisha Rich were the deacons. In 1843, Rev. Thompson Burrow, pastor, a ne wconfession was adapted. In 1842, (June 8) the upper part of the "New Town Meeting House" was dedicated to worship. In 1845 Rev. J. W. Ford became the pastor, followed in 1851 by B. V. Stevenson. In 1853 Rev. A. Rbbott. In 1856 to 1860, Rev. Orren Perkins. For 8 years no settled pastor. In 1868-9 Rev. Increase S. Lincoln, Unitarian, was pastor; 1871-2, Rev. T. L. Dean; 1874, Rev. E. S. Foster; in 1877, Revs. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Tabor; 1879-80, Rev. W. C. Selleck, a summer supply; 1881-2, Rev. A. A. Rice; 1884, Rev. E. A. Read; 1888, Rev. D. L. Fisher; 1890, Rev. W. A. Tuttle; 1892, Rev. L. P. Quimby; 1893, Rev. J. H. Little; 1899, Rev. J. P. Marvin; 1903, Rev. C. J. Harris.

"The First Universalist Parish of Winchester" is a religious fact representing the touch and toil of 27 ministers, the gifts and service of ten times as many men who loved God, all these sustained by the modest but indispensable help of Christ-loving wives and daughters who have struggled and saved just as noble women have worked and prayed in all the churches in the never ending battle for the betterment of human nature. They all share the feeling of a brave soldier who stood up in the boat saying, "Some one has got to do it and it may as well be me.

He drew the fire of the enemy and died at his post. The victory is grand for those we miss, and great for those now on duty for love and consecration are here in due form in a beautiful house of worship, a fine organ bought by the young people and a Julia B. Thayer fund of $5,000, with a parsonage bought by the Ladies' Aid Society.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

The Rev. Jesse Lee preached the first Methodist sermon here about the year 1800, and the father of Rev. John F. Adams was one of the converts. The name of the first regular circuit preacher is not recorded. There was a great revival here in 1804 and the first Methodist chapel was dedicated in 1805. The timbers were 12x18. There was no lumber tariff then yet only a few benches were in it for seats. No stove or heating aparatus was used. In those days the minister always prayed for fire, the fire of Divine love. In 1826 the building that afterwards became known as the armory was dedicated as a Methodist meeting-house. As the church was growing there was need of a larger room and a movement began which resulted in the building of the present house of worship, completed in 1842 by Rev. Jacob Stevens, Samuel Belding and Alfred Willis. After some years the house was raised and a spacious vestry finished on the first floor. Though impossible to name all the holy men of God who gloried in preaching a full and free salvation to all, we find record of Rev. Charles Adams, D. D., for many of the later years, 1870-1885 in charge of the dead letter office in Washington, D. C., a high-class graduate of Bowdoin College, Hon. Jared Perkins, one of the best representatives

New Hampshire ever had in Congress, Rev. Justin Spaulding, Rev. M. T. Cilley, Rev. A. C. Hardy, Rev. J. W. Adams, Rev. James Noyes, Rev. Irad Taggart, Rev. A. C. Coult, Rev. O. P. Wright, Rev. N. C. Pillsbury, Rev. C. W. Dockrill, Rev. J. H. Vincent, Rev. M. Tisdale, Rev. J. T. Hooper who recently concluded a very successful pastorate here where Rev. C. E. Clough is now the pastor. At a rally and roll-call with banquet and musical program led by A. B. Woodbury in 1900, of the 75 present 50 were over 60 years of age, average age 70 1-3 years. The good do not all die young. The church membership in 1909 is 148 with a Sunday school of 128.

Probable value of meeting-house $11,000. Probable value of parsonage, $2,000. The church gave $134 in Benevolent collections in 1908, beside the salary of the pastor.

Memorial Day of 1908 was especially observed by the dedication of the Soldiers' Monument, on an eligible site in the public square, bearing an inscription on a bronze tablet: "Erected A. D., 1908, by the citizens of Winchester, N. H. The members of Post No. 19, Grand Army of the Republic, Department of New Hampshire and its affiliated Woman's Relief Corps. In Honor of those who served on Winchester's Quota in the army or navy of the United States in the war of 1861-1865 for the preservation of the Union."

With about 20 stores including the Chamberlain and Yeates Department stores, the Woodbury and Lesure furniture store, with several excellent grocery and provision stores, livery stables and blacksmith shops the activity and enterprise of Winchester centres especially in the Winchester tannery, employing over 100 men and the New England Box Co., a branch of the Corporation located in Greenfield, Mass., capital of $500,000 employing from 110 to 150 men.

The Winchester House is a pleasant home for travelers kept by Mr. J. W. Shipman, is heated by steam and has an excellent livery attached. To know Winchester you must also see Ashuelot village as it is today one of the most attractive in Cheshire County.

To know how men succeed and improve the town in which they live from the Winchester stand-point, you must view the record of the Ashuelot Mfg. Co., the Thayer & Turner factory, the Ansel Dickinson mill, the Ashuelot Warp Co., Robertson Brothers' paper-mill, Howards' box factory, Eames' Wire Mattress factory, the Adamascobite Company and a dozen other firms, that for want of space we cannot mention except in this general way of congratulation to them and to their successors.

In acknowledging the courteous help of Comrade Scott, Miss Grace Alexander, Hon. H. W. Brigham, Editor A. J. Pettengill of the Winchester Star, and Geo. W. Pierce, M. D. I quote the words of Dr. Pierce in one of his very valuable letters on "Our Town meetings." The words seem apt and mean so much after reading the seven folios of Winchester History from 1791 to 1909. "The view of this ancient volume brings the past so near the present that it seems almost as though we could touch hands with these worthies who builded the foundations of a Winchester so strong and well-laid in all that makes for human welfare, progress and prosperity. No blot stains her fair escutcheon. She has never been derelict in any municipal, state or national emergency."

History of Westmoreland

ITEMS OF THE ANCIENT DAYS

1777, Jan. 31. Voted "That the town is dissatisfied with the present plan of government."

Apr. 22. Voted and chose Dea. Jonathan Cole to give the thanks of the town to Lieut. Isaac Chamberlain for his giving to this town a piece of land to set the meeting-house on."

1825, Sept. 16. Rev. Allen Pratt, town clerk, certifies that Robert Britton has license to sell spirituous liquors where he lives in Westmoreland during the continuance of the Methodist camp-meeting.

JONATHAN LORD, JR.,
JIMNA WALKER,
Selectmen.

1800, Aug. 30. "This day received and recorded a license authorizing Capt. Thos. H. Green to keep a public house or tavern in the following words and figures, viz: This may certify that we do hereby license Thos. H. Green to keep a public house or tavern in this town for the term of one year.

JOSEPH BUFFUM,
WM. HUTCHINS,
WM. BRITTON,
Selectmen.

March 9, 1852. The town voted to build a town-house to cost $1200. Col. Tileston A. Barker was the moderator and appointed Timothy Haskins, Anson Cole and Jonas Wheeler to superintend the work. And on Tuesday, Nov. 2d, 1852, the first town meeting was held in the new town house. Dexter Warren served as town clerk from 1853 to 1860. Then Joseph W. Leonard made the records until 1863. Henry F. Cowdery served as town clerk until December of that year. Anson Cole again served the town as clerk until 1865 when Lieut. Edwin J. Goodnow, who was the first man to lose an arm in the war of rebellion was sworn as town clerk and has served faithfully ever since in that responsible office.

GREAT MEADOW GRANGE

The Grange in Westmoreland is of age and speaks for itself. Since Jan. 22, 1889, when Thomas H. White and Fred S. Barker on petition of 25 citizens met them with others in the ladies' parlor of Park Hill meeting-house and organized a grange. Great Meadow Grange, No. 138, continues to do excellent work in the educational, social and progressive interests of the town. From the very first it has included many of the leading men and women in each of the parishes, so that the North, South and East have become united in a commendable civic aid.

A necessity for such a helpful gathering of the people has brought about an enlarged town hall including the Selectmen's office, a dining-hall and kitchen. No town in the old Granite state surpasses Westmoreland in its zeal for the observance of Old Home Week. From the inception of this excellent idea, originated by one of New Hampshire's favorite sons, (Ex- Senator Rollins) this town has become justly celebrated for its warm welcome and generous hospitality to the hundreds of her sons and daughters "home returning from afar."

The first officers were:—Worthy Master, George J. Bennett; Overseer, Elmer T. Nims; Lecturer, William J. Reed; Steward, Forrest W. Hall; Assistant Steward, Dr. James H. Craig; Chaplain, Charles K. Cobb; Treasurer, James W. Lord; Secretary, Willard Bill, Jr.; Gate-Keeper, Clinton C. Hall; Flora, Lizzie A. Fuller; Pomona, Lephe E. Pierce; Ceres, Hattie M. Bennett; Lady Assistant Steward, Lizzie I. Reed.

WESTMORELAND PUBLIC LIBRARY

In 1876, Rev. Charles N. Flanders and Willard Bill, Jr., first made a move for a free town library in Westmoreland. They realized $116.21 by a course of lectures. Mr. Flanders closed his pastorate in 1878. The money was put at interest in a Keene Bank until Jan. 1, 1887. In that year an Association was formed, and it was unanimously voted to present the library to the town upon the condition that it should be maintained as a free town library. The town voted to accept it in March, 1888. The Park Hill library in keeping of Hon. W. J. Reed and the South library in charge of Dea. John Cowdery were soon turned over to the town library. The town has usually voted $100 annually for its maintenance and has been fortunate in having faithful and efficient librarians to whom much credit is due for its success. They served in the order named: Misses Mary and Carrie Warren, Mrs. Millie E. Shelley, Mrs. Carrie E. Bryant and Mrs. Jennie Craig, the very capable librarian now in charge. As a labor of love and without compensation, Mrs. Mary E. Ruland prepared a very careful catalogue of the library for the printer in 1903. The town voted to provide a suitable place for 2,955 books, so the brick school house has been utilized and much beautified within, and as the boys and girls come from the new school-house on the high ground near where the Cowdery Museum formerly stood, they are reminded of what the tax-payers have already done for them.

MILITARY HISTORY

In 1786, Joseph Burt, Geo. Aldrich, Isaac Butterfield and Jonas Robbins divided the glebe land among the 13 soldiers who went from the town and served in the Revolutionary War. The 12 names are here given to whom were assigned lots valued at £40 or more. John Wheeler, Col. Geo. Aldrich, Levi Aldrich, 1 and 2, Manasseh Sawyer, 1 and 2, Benjamin Rogers, Calvin Chamberlain, Mijah Temple 1 and 2, Selah How, and Caleb Aldrich Jr. In 1861, the town voted $500 to aid the families of volunteers, and in 1862, voted a bounty of $150 each to newly enlisted men in the war for the Union. In Oct. voted to pay $200 each to the 9 months men from this town. In 1863 voted $800 for soldiers' families, and $200 each to drafted men or substitutes.

In Dec., 1863. Voted to pay $300 to each man that volunteers. March 8th, 1864, voted to raise $600 to aid soldiers' families. June 8th, 1864 voted to pay $1,000 to any drafted man, substitute or volunteer. Also voted to fill the quota of the town under any subsequent call of the President.

RELIGIOUS HISTORY

The records show Rev. Wm. Goddard as pastor in 1764, ordained Nov. 7. Rev. Joseph Buckminster of Rutland, Rev. Buckley Olcott of Charlestown, Rev. Clement Sumner of Keene, Rev. Samuel Hedge of Warwick, and Rev. Joseph Sumner of Shrewsbury with lay delegates composed the Council.

1790. Rev. Allen Pratt became the pastor and Joseph Burt was chosen clerk.

Mr. Pratt's ordaining council was made by the Congregational churches of Putney, Walpole, Keene Charlestown, Swanzey, Winchester, Springfield and Chesterfield. The matters of usual record, church discipline, honest differences of opinion, location of two meeting-houses to convene a large territory, and friendly division in 1826 are faithfully written in four volumes. In 1827, Larkin Baker, clerk, Otis Hutchins, Samuel Winchester and Oliver Leonard, assessors, met at Simeon Cobb's with the members of that date. Rev. Allen Pratt began preaching in the brick meeting house in January, 1828.

There is a wealth of material for the complete history of religion in Westmoreland.

In the recent years, 1888 to 1908 the N. H. Home Missionary Society has aided the Congregational Church. Rev. A. T. Hillman began this work. Rev. Geo. W. Ruland was installed pastor from 1889 to 1894 and Rev. G. H. French was acting pastor from 1894 to 1906. Rev. P. J. McInnis has the honor of rallying the society to self-support and is preaching accaptably without aid from the N. H. H. M. Society.

Rev. Mr. Burrows is the present pastor of the Baptist church, and also serving as Chaplain in regular services at the Cheshire Co. Home.

The Universalist Society was organized in Goddard and Knight's store, Dec. 11, 1838; Jonathan Lord, Chairman; Barton Skinner, clerk. Pursuant to advertisement in the Republican and Museum of Keene, of above date, Wilson Gleason, Haskell Buffum, Stephen Barker, John Pierce and their associates met in the brick church and adopted a constitution and by-laws, Jan. 7, 1839. The signers were as follows: Jotham Lord, Samuel Howe, Wm. A. Wiley, Reuben Kendall, Clinton Gleason, James M. Cowdery, Harlow H. Simmons, Arby Barker, Jabez I. Pierce, Barton Skinner, Stephen Barker, Wilson Gleason, Gilbert T. Heustis, Samuel Torrey, Levi Barker, Calvin Q. A. Britton, Erastus Ware, Samuel Howe, 2nd, Prescott B. White, John Cowdery, Elias Chamberlain, John Pierce, Sewell Buffum, Melvin Derby, I. Haskins, Caleb C. Daggett, Moses B. Hastings, John M.

Wheeler, Amasa Chaffe, Shuball H. Bennett, Manly P. Horton, Tyleston A. Barker, Wm. Blanchard, J. E. Buffum, B. L. Blanchard, Samuel McCurdy, William N. Patten, Warren Wheeler, Daniel W. Patten, Ebenezer Andrews, Marshall Torrey, Harry H. Heustis, C. C. Daggett, Reuben Kendall, Jr., Charles Butterfield, Clinton A. Ware. From 1842 the clerks were as follows: John Cowdery; 1847, M. B. Hastings; 1848, M. P. Horton; 1854, J. E. Buffum; 1857, Calvin Britton; 1861, Daniel W. Patten; 1864, Addison Ware; 1868, Calvin Britton; 1871, Wm. N. Patten.

The first pastor, Rev. Charles Woodhouse preached during the years 1839 to 1844, about ¾ of the time with a salary of $250 to $300 and fuel. Rev. Josiah Marvin from 1844 to 1848. Rev. Alson Scott, 1849. Rev. Phineas Hersey, 1850-1; Rev. E. H. Lake, 1852-7; Rev. S. H. McCollester, D. D.; 1858,-65, Rev. O. G. Woodbury; 1869, Rev. S. S. Laws; 1871, Rev. J. Barbour.

In 1845 the Society began to raise the salary by voluntary subscription.

List of officers courteously given by the present efficient clerk, Mrs. Eva J. Burt.

1877-83, Clerk C. Q. H. Britton; Trustees, Allen Barker, G. J. Bennett, Edward Green; Rev. Joseph Barker, pastor.

1878-1880, Trustees, Reuben Kendall, T. H. Barker, J. E. Buffum.

1880, Rev. S. H. McCollester, D. D. again the pastor: Trustees, Wm. N. Patten, G. J. Bennett, Levi Ware.

1881-2, Same officers and without a pastor.

1886-1905, Clerk, G. J. Bennett; Trustees, William Bill, G. M. Simmons, J. P. Bennett, and Dr. McCollester, pastor until 1891. Then with same trustees, Rev. J. L. Scoboria was pastor for 5 years.

In 1897 the trustees were G. J. Bennet, Willard Bill, Jr., Henry D. Pierce; Rev. L. E. Williams, pastor.

In 1899, the Trustees were the same except that Mrs. Eva J. Burt was chosen as Trustee in place of G. J. Bennett and Rev. H. E. Rouillard was pastor to Oct., 1901.

TREASURER

For many years, the Treasurer and Superintending School Committee have been appointed by the Selectmen. Among those who proved to be efficient and faithful in the office of Treasurer we find Dea. John Cowdery, Major Daniel W. Patten, Leonard Wilcox, Willard Bill, Jr., James W. Lord, James A. Craig, and Alson C. Cobb.

THE TOWN AS A SCHOOL DISTRICT

Previous to the operative of the law of 1887, the Selectmen appointed the Superintending School Committee. Under the present law, there have served the town as a School Board for three years each, William J. Reed, Geo. J. Bennett, James A. Craig, M. D., Rev. Geo. W. Ruland, C. M. Scovell, Henry C. Leach, Geo. S. Aldrich, Rev. Geo. H. French, Clark L. Aldrich and Kirke W. Wheeler.

History of Chesterfield

This town was incorporated as No. 1, in 1736 by the General Court of Massachusetts. Lying south of Keene and Westmoreland, bordered on the west for 6 miles by the (Quinneh-tuk-ut) Connecticut river, it was actually occupied as a settlement in 1761, or 25 years after "Upper Ashuelot," now Keene was settled. It was named in honor of the Earl of Chesterfield, a prominent orator and writer holding office in the English government. According to Larkin G. Mead's brief sketch written in 1822, Moses Smith and his son-in-law, William Thomas were the first settlers, Nov. 25, 1761. William Thomas's daughter, Mary, was the first Caucasian born in town, April 25, 1762. The first town-meeting of record was held June 2nd, 1767, and called for votes upon raising money to hire "schooling and "preaching." The roads as then laid out were accepted. Jan. 16, 1770, Josiah Willard, the leading granter, on petition of 13 men called a town-meeting for March 7th and the town-record is unbroken from that date. Dr. Elkanah Day was the first moderator, and Ephriam Baldwin was the first town-clerk and held the office for 15 years.

Six town meetings were held in 1771, that being the year the Province of New Hampshire was divided into five counties, viz: Rockingham, Strafford, Hillsborough, Cheshire and Grafton. In Sept., 1771, Rev. John Elliot was called as the town minister.

In 1772, eight town meetings were held, in the 5th of which, it was voted to finish the outside of the meeting-house, and "to hire preaching upon probation." This resulted in calling Rev. Abraham Wood to be the settled minister. Chesterfield men to the number of 139 protested against British tyranny and unjust representation in signing the Declaration known as the Association Test, June 12th, 1776. In 1781, much excitement prevailed over the question of whether the town should be a part of Vermont or be represented in the New Hampshire legislature. This matter affected 35 towns on the east side of the river. A memorial signed by 80 of the voters protested against the union with Vermont. The question was finally settled without bloodshed. Of the men in the third N. H. Regiment in the Revolutionary War commanded by Col. James Reid of Fitzwilliam I give the names of 15 men who were from Chesterfield; Joseph Smith, Eleazar Jordan, Jonathan Farr, Joshua Farr, Eleazar Stoddard, Joseph Metcalf, Charles Johnson, Elijah Walton, Josiah Hastings, Elisha Walton, Eleazar Cobleigh, Ephraim Farr, Asa Gale, John Merrill, Benjamin Wheeler.

MILITARY HISTORY

This town was fully represented in each year of the Revolutionary War by an average of ten men. The careful historian of Chesterfield, Mr. Oren E. Randall says: "Owing to the imperfect manner in which the army records were kept, during the struggle for independence the names of the Chesterfield men who were wounded or lost their lives, while in the service of their country cannot be given; they slumber in nameless graves but their deeds will be held in remembrance by a grateful posterity for centuries to come." After 50 years of growth and prosperity the town manfully faced the stern reality of the Great Rebellion and bore its share of the burden in money and men. Seventy-four volunteered and 36 were hired as substitutes. The town paid from $200 to $900 to each man according to the term of enlistment.

The record which follows of Chesterfield volunteers is from the town records, and reports of the N. H. Adjutant General.

CHURCH HISTORY

THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

As in most of New England towns the early history of the town and the early history of the Congregational church is the same. The town meeting house was a place for divine worship on the Lord's day. The town warrant for June, 1767 was to raise money for roads, schools, and to hire preaching. The church was organized in 1771. The first settled minister was

Rev. Abraham Wood. Rev. John Elliott preceeded him as a supply. Mr. Wood was ordained December 31, 1772, and was the pastor for 50 years, he received 324 persons as members, baptised 765. Rev John Walker became the pastor in 1823, and served till 1829. Rev. Elihu Smith followed in 1832, for two years. Josiah Ballard served as pastor in 1835. Rev. Hosea Beckley was the pulpit supply for the next six years. Rev. Benjamin Hale was ordained as pastor in 1842 and served for five years. The pulpit was partially supplied for the ensuing five years. Rev. Ebenezer Hale was acting pastor from 1852 to July, 1854.

From 1854 to 1858 the members attended the services of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Rev. Jefferies Hall served as acting pastor from 1858 to 1866. For many years the society or church here had no resident pastor, and the meeting house built in 1834 has been closed part of the time. In later years the church has been in the care of the N. H. Home Missionary Society. Of the pulpit supplies since 1866, Rev. John W. Barrow, Rev. B. W. Pennock, Rev. Geo. W. Ruland, Rev. Charles N. Sinnett. Mr. Sinnett remained the longest, over six years. Mr. Sinnett is a successful minister in the far west, and a popular writer of books for young people. The N. H. Home Missionary Society has wisely accepted the situation, as the Methodist Episcopal church is well established with meeting-house and parsonage, and an efficient minister, who holds regular services at Spofford, in the Union meeting-house, as well as in the meeting-house at the Center.

THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Chesterfield has a methodist history since the noted Rev. Jesse Lee preached here in 1793. The first circuit formed in N. H. in 1796 was the Chesterfield circuit. Phillip Wager travelled this circuit alone. Rev. Jonathan Nichols was one of the first preachers. Here Rev. Martin Ruter, D. D., a noted historical writer preached his first sermon in James Robertson's house about the year 1804. The organization has records dating from June 18, 1842. The methodist people and their friends built their present meeting house here in 1844. Before that year they worshipped in private houses, school houses and in the old Congregational meeting-house. The pastors' names are given, so far as can be learned; 1839-40 C. L. McCurdy; 1842-43, Alonzo Webster; 1848, Calvin Holman; 1852, D. P. Leavitt; 1853, Elisha Adams; 1854-5, Joseph Hayes; 1856-57, A. K. Howard; 1858-59, J. P. Stinchfield; 1860, Nelson Green; 1861-67, Thomas L. Fowler; 1869, W. H. Cummings; 1870, James H. Copp; 1871-72, Rev. N. Fisk; 1873-75, A. L. Kendall; 1875-76, E. P. F. Dearborn; 1877, John A. Parker; 1878-81, W. LeSeur; 1881-84, without supply; 1884-89, Rev. Mark Tisdale; 1901-03, Rev. N. Fisk, second term;1904-07, supplied; 1907-08, Rev. Mr. Rivier; 1909, Rev. Geo. A. Smith.

The N. H. Conference minister for 1909 reports the membership as 45, and one on probation. In 1908, three children were baptised. Two sunday-schools hold regular sessions with 64 persons in attendance, having 13 officers and teachers. The church property is reported at a probable value of $1,875, expended for repairs in 1908, $62. The pastor's salary, $500 was paid last year, and house rent of parsonage beside. The church also paid $65 for the Bishop's and District Superintendent's support and usual current expenses. The benevolent collections amounted to $81. It is due to say that the present preacher in charge, Rev. Geo. A. Smith, has entered upon his second year with devotion to his high calling, and the improvements now in progress, show that the people honor the Lord's house, and consecrate time and money for christian service.

THE UNIVERSALISTS.

The Universalist Restoration Society, organized in or before 1798, had 47 members, they were incorporated in 1818. They built a meeting house in the western part in 1830. There were some baptists who paid for pews. In 1822, Robert Bartlett preached five Sundays, 1822 to 1826 preaching four Sundays.

Pulpit supplies are named when possible: 1828, Rev. Wm. S. Balch; 1830-35, Rev. P. R. Russell; 1836-37, Rev. S. A. Barnard; 1838-43, Rev. Chas Woodhouse; 1844-45, Rev. Josiah Marvin; 1851-54, Rev. E. H. Lake; 1855-56, Rev. H. B. Butler; 1857-62, Rev. S. H. McCollester, D. D.; 1862-70, Rev. O. G. Woodbury. The last four named reside in Westmoreland, and preached half of the time in that town. Dr. McCollester taught an excellent school there. Rev. Joseph Barber preached in Westmoreland and West Chesterfield, 1871 to 1877.

Rev. H. B. Morgan was ordained here in 1879, and was the preacher for many years. Rev. Harry Rouillard followed

Rev. J. L. Scoboria, who was the preacher in 1889-94. Mr. Rouillard is now in Portland, Maine.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. Nathan Worden settled in the town in 1787, and preached here and in adjoining towns. In June, 1819, a society was incorporated as the First Baptist Church. They owned a part of the west meeting-house, and held services in it. The Baptist revivalist, Rev. Andrews, held a series of meetings there. I give the names of Elder Crane, Elder Monroe, Elder Mann, Elder Elliott and Elder Dunham, who preached here at different periods, in the early part of the 19th century, but the organization has been lifeless for many years. One of the oldest residents of factory village, told before he died how Ebenezer Stearns used to give Elder Joseph Wilbur as his share of the money raised to hire him to preach, five dollars in money and a dinner (with half a mug of toddy,) every sunday that he preached. The Methodist Episcopal minister, as before stated, holds regular services at Spoffard, in the Union meeting-house which was built in 1853, by Congregationalists, Methodists and Universalists, with a right to a proportionate use of the house for the money invested for pews.

THE UNITARIANS

In 1834 some persons who withdrew from the First Congretational Church, joined with others to organize the Unitarian Church, and for 3 years they employed Rev. S. A. Barnard, aided by the Universalists. This fraternal course resulted in Unitarian affiliations with the Universalist church in the western part, and no Unitarian service has been held for many years. The intelligent and patriotic people who came in large numbers from New York, Philadelphia and Boston, to enjoy the scenery of Spofford lake and rest in sight of the Green Mountains from Chesterfield's high street, do not favor starting a new sect or church, but they encourage the people who try to sustain regular services already established. Mr. Stearns of the Pine Grove Springs Hotel, and his summer guests, Mrs. Abby Burroughs Coy, State Regent of Arkansas, D. A. R. and her veteran soldier husband, Col Lucien Coy, also others who come back to the good old town, uplift their hands and give generously for religious education, and all that stands for good citizenship.

PART II

The population of the towns of Winchester, Walpole, Chesterfield, Westmoreland and Hinsdale has been arranged in families where that arrangement has been possible. In these families, in addition to the resident living members, the names of the non-resident members are included. It should be borne in mind that this plan does not include the names of all former residents of this town, as the names of the non-residents appear only when one or both of the parents are still living in the town. After the name of each non-resident will be found the present address, when such address has been given to us. Non-residents are indicated by the (*).

When a daughter in a family has married, her name taken in marriage appears after her given name in parenthesis, the name preceded by a small m, thus: (m).

Following the names of the population is the occupations. To designate these we have used the more common abbreviations and contractions, as follows: Farmer—far; carpenter—car; railroad service—R R ser; student, a member of an advanced institution of learning—stu; pupil, a member of a lower grade of schools (including all who have reached the age of five years)—pl; housework—ho; laborer—lab; physician and surgeon—phy & sur; clergyman—clerg; merchant—mer; teacher—tr; blacksmith—blk; clerk—cl; bookkeeper—bk kpr; lawyer—law; mechanic—mech; machinist—mach; engineer—eng; maker—mkr; worker—wkr; work—wk; shoe shop operative—s s op; cotton or woolen mill operatives—mill op; weaver—weav; spinner—spin; electrician—elec; painter—ptr; carriage work—car wk; dress maker—dr mkr; insurance—ins; traveling salesman, or commercial traveler—sales; music teacher—mus tr; teamster—team; general work—gen wk; mariner--mar; employ—emp; retired—rtd; telephone operative—tel op; telegraph operative—teleg op.

Census of Westmoreland

NOTE—Where no address is given Westmoreland is understood. Other postoffices are abbreviated as follows: East Westmoreland, East; Westmoreland Depot, Depot; Winchester, Winch.
